Joint ASM Abstracts and Registrations Now Open

Abstract submissions and registrations are open for the 2016 Joint Annual Scientific Meeting of HBPRCA, AAS and AVBS. Visit www.jointasm.com.au for further details, to register or submit an abstract.

If you are planning to submit an abstract, please ensure that you use the template available HERE and on the website, when submitting your abstract, to ensure the correct format as they may well be published in the Journal

Geoff Head - National Premier Conference of the CSANZ

Hypertension after the meeting – thank you.

It was a great achievement for one of our HBPRCA Executive Committee members to present at the National Premier Conference of the CSANZ as the Gaston Bauer lecturer.

Congratulations to Geoff for flying the hypertension flag at a cardiac conference.

Women & Leadership Australia (WLA)

Women & Leadership Australia (WLA) launches a new flagship program designed to develop mid to senior level women and prepare them for advancement into executive leadership. A national scholarship initiative will be administered by WLA to support this launch.

$4,000 development scholarships are now being awarded to female leaders across the country to support the nationwide launch of the Executive Ready program.

About the Executive Ready program

Informed by the experiences of hundreds of talented and respected women across all industries, Executive Ready is a leadership accelerator designed to stretch participants and propel them towards executive level performance, behaviours and mindsets. Developed by the country's foremost authority on women leaders and their unique needs, Executive Ready is for women who want to lead more confidently, transform the performance of their team and fully realise their future career/life potential.
