

FOUNDATION FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE RESEARCH

YOUNG INVESTIGATOR TRAVEL AWARDS

International Society of Hypertension Scientific Meeting
GLASGOW, UK
29 May-1 June 2020

The Foundation for High Blood Pressure Research is pleased to announce that it will provide Travel Awards to young Australian researchers presenting their work at the ISH Scientific Meeting in Glasgow, UK. Individual awards will be up to $2,000.00 as determined by the Foundation.

The following conditions will apply:

Eligibility

The awards are available to PhD students and postdoctoral researchers with no more than five years' experience post-PhD (after taking into account any career interruptions). Preference will be given to members of the High Blood Pressure Research Council of Australia. The Foundation encourages all applicants to seek other sources of funding to attend this meeting. The award is intended for those who have not received support from other sources other than their own laboratory or department.

How to apply

Applicants should send a letter of application to the address below with a copy of the abstract(s) submitted to the Hypertension Glasgow 2020 Organising Committee and provide evidence that the abstract has been accepted. Applicants should also provide a brief (2 pages maximum) curriculum vitae and a letter from the Head of their department or research institution that confirms their status as a Young Investigator as defined above. Please indicate whether you have received support to attend the meeting from other external sources and the amount.

Judging procedures

Following receipt of this information the Trustees of the Foundation will make a decision on the number and value of the Travel Awards to be offered.

Applications should be sent to:

Joyce Kelly
Foundation for High Blood Pressure Research
Email: jkelly@unimelb.edu.au
Applications close on Friday 14 February 2020